SUMMARY

I am a passionate and detail-oriented Front-End Developer with experience since 2022 in creating responsive and user-friendly web interfaces. I specialize in HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, focusing on performance optimization and delivering seamless user experiences. I have a strong ability to translate designs into fully functional, interactive websites. I am always eager to learn new technologies and stay up to date with the latest trends in web development to deliver high-quality, modern solutions.

PROJECTS

PORTFOLIO Website

Designed a visually appealing front-end interface for a personal website, focusing on intuitive navigation and showcasing personal projects, skills, and achievements in a user-friendly manner.
